CLASS OFFERINGS FOR FALL SEMESTER

For your convenience, the Carol Stream Center continues to offer a wide selection of general education classes, including Accounting, Anatomy & Physiology, Anthropology, Art, Biology, Biomedical Terminology, Business, Computer Information Systems (CIS), Criminal Justice, Education, English, History, Humanities, Math, Philosophy, Psychology, Religion, Sociology and Speech. There are 35 credit classes offered, including three hybrid classes in formats of 16, 12 and 8 weeks. For a complete listing of all the fall classes offered in the Carol Stream Center, stop by the Center or visit us at cod.edu/carolstream.

WHAT ARE HYBRID CLASSES?

Hybrid courses integrate 50 percent classroom instruction with 50 percent online learning, which allows students to earn credit using a flexible, effective format. These courses contain the same content as the corresponding traditional classroom versions. When completed successfully, grades and credits for these courses are documented on a student's record in the same manner as traditional courses. Prospective students may want to contact the instructor of a course or courses they are considering for specific details.

CAROL STREAM LEARNING COMMONS

The Carol Stream Learning Commons, located within the Carol Stream Center, offers a wide variety of academic and specialized testing for students and the community. COD students can also discover many academic support services offered free of charge. To find out more, call the CSLC at (630) 942-4900.
