Career Definition:

Certified Nursing Assistant (CNA) is the credential earned after completion of an approved Certified Nursing Assistant Training Program (CNATP) course and passing the Illinois Department of Public Health (IDPH) Illinois Nurse Assistant Competency Exam (INACE). CNAs are members of the health care team and work under the supervision of registered nurses to provide basic bedside care such as eating, dressing and bathing.

Opportunities for Employment:

According to The U.S Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) Occupational Outlook Handbook, May 2021, the median expected annual salary for the certified nurse assistant is $30,290. Actual salaries may vary based on specialization within the field, location, and years of experience. The BLS anticipates employment of nurse assistants to grow 8 percent from 2020 through 2030 in response to increasing emphasis on rehabilitation, home health and the long-term care needs of a rapidly growing elderly population. CNAs work in skilled nursing facilities, hospitals and home health agencies.

Opportunities for Advancement:

Graduates use their CNA certification as a springboard to other careers in health care, such as home-health aide certification, phlebotomy, or nursing. Successful completion of a CNA certificate program is a prerequisite for students who plan to apply for the College of DuPage Associate Degree Nursing (ADN) program

Program Overview: NURSA 1105 Nursing Assistant Training Program (6 credit hours)

The Certified Nursing Assistant Training program is a one course, six credit hour program. The course fully in-person and offered in 8- and 16-week schedules. Schedules meet the theory and clinical hours required by law. Successful course completion requires time in a classroom and lab, at a clinical setting, and for practice and study at home.

Questions? Contact nursinghealth@cod.edu

Skills include all elements of personal care, vital sign measurement, body mechanics, safety precautions, residents' rights, infection control, communication and observation. Exploration of the healthcare needs of geriatric residents and people with dementia is included. CPR certification occurs during the course.

Upon successful completion of the program, graduates are eligible to take the Illinois Department of Public Health (IDPH) Nurse Assistant Competency Exam. After passing the exam, certification status appears on the Health Care Worker Registry <http://www.idph.state.il.us/nar/home.htm>. The IDPH Office of Health Regulations approved the College of DuPage Nursing Assistant Training Program.

Program Outcomes:

At the conclusion of the program, students should be able to:

Use skills appropriate for a CNA to communicate to the health care providers the needs of the consumer. Evaluate the consumer's responses to the care measures provided.
